Let us pray together, trusting that where two or more are gathered in His name, Jesus is present:

L: May the God of all consolation make us one in heart and mind, after the example of Christ:

R: to give glory to the Father with one voice.

L: In Your wisdom, You have given particular gifts to each member of Your Body, the Church,

R: to serve the common good in freedom and charity.

L: You gave us a new commandment,

R: that we would love one another as You have loved us.

L: You prayed that we would be perfectly united,

R: so that the world may believe You were sent by the Father.

L: You have called us to Your table,

R: so that Your Word and Your Body and Blood might generate a new people.

L: Pour out Your Spirit on us and give us peace,

R: and make us quick to forgive our brothers and sisters, never paying back evil for evil.

L: Lord Jesus, You have called us Your friends. Refresh those who are weary and oppressed. Give us the courage to help each other to seek Your face, correcting one another in charity, and bearing each other's burdens in humble service. You reign for ever and ever.

R: Amen.
